The new 2012 Power Reed is the next level in Trial-specific performance. Dual-stage reeds work in unison to perform efficiently throughout the entire powerband. ... The VForce reed valve system by Moto Tassinari has been the reed valve system of choice by anyone serious about two-stroke engine performance for the last 10+ years. The simple ...

A pair of Malossi reed valve blades made from carbon fibre. Reed valves are commonly used in high-performance versions of the two-stroke engine, where they control the fuel-air mixture admitted to the cylinder. As the piston rises in the cylinder a vacuum is created in the crankcase beneath the piston. The resulting pressure differential opens the valve and the fuel-air mixture ...

Vforce 3/4 Reed Valve System for KTM, Husaberg, Husqvarna, GasGas. The unique design of the VForce reed valve system features double the reed tip surface over a conventional reed valve design. This has two major benefits: 1) The reed petals only travel half the distance as a conventional reed valve design to get the same airflow. 2) Because the ...

Typically on a reed system you would check it by feeling the intake for pressure on the down stroke. Looking at the cutaway the pressure should be felt for the first (1/2 ish) of the down stroke, but once the piston blocks the top port the reed valves should be blocking pressure for the second 1/2 of the stroke.

What is Reed Valve? Reed valve is a one-way valve made of flexible material. It uses gas or liquid flow to open and close, creating suction or pressure within an engine or other device. Reed valves are commonly used to control fuel/air mixture, exhaust gases, lubrication oil pressure and timing in two-stroke engines. Properties of Reed Valve ...
