

Introduction: Barcelona Takes a Stand Against Overtourism In July 2025, the city of Barcelona announced a significant change to its cruise tourism policy. Two of its cruise terminals at the Moll Adossat port will be permanently closed by ...

Spanish women are more aware and active than men in combating climate change and all the environmental issues it causes. This is highlighted by the conclusions of the first survey ...

Ports are central to global trade, ensuring supply chains stay connected. As the world faces rising geopolitical tension and climate instability, J.P.Morgan warns that ports must adapt or risk ...

ZURICH -- Aitana Bonmat scored in extra time to send Spain to its first-ever Women's European Championship final with a 1-0 win over Germany on Wednesday, setting up a repeat of the ...

Spain is battling extreme weather, with flash floods in the north and a searing heatwave in the south which could be impacted by climate change Spain has faced extreme weather events in ...

Once-in-a-decade UN conference on development aid kicks off in Spain At least 50 world leaders gather in Seville to address global concerns, including hunger, climate change and healthcare.

Abstract Amid growing efforts to mitigate climate change in healthcare systems, there is a need to better understand the complex social and political processes by which a healthcare system ...

This program introduces powerful technologies for effectively monitoring the multifaceted impacts of climate change on critical port infrastructure and the surrounding dynamic coastal ...

Mastering stakeholder engagement is paramount for ensuring the successful creation and adoption of sustainable and impactful adaptation strategies in the face of increasing climate ...

As the world faces rising geopolitical tension and climate instability, J.P.Morgan warns that ports must adapt or risk falling behind. From climate threats like flooding and storms to shifts in trade ...

Results: It was found that the port is vulnerable to heavy wind, drought, and flood. Mitigation measures, such as covering loading bays, and applying anti-freeze agents and windbreakers, ...

October 31, 2024 - Catastrophic flash floods that have killed more than 150 people are the result of a meteorological phenomenon known as DANA, which is believed to be growing more severe due to climate change. infographic

Climate change port of spain

Antonio Cerrillo: Leading Spanish Environmental Journalist Exposing Climate Challenges Antonio Cerrillo holds a degree in Hispanic Philology from the University of Barcelona and was ...

Climate change port of spain

Web: <https://ekusenitours.co.za>