

Commercial energy savings

This can unlock big energy savings and position companies as leaders in an increasingly climate-conscious market. Recently, we held a sustainability and energy management webinar with ...

Rather than reacting to price spikes, companies focused on long-term energy cost savings are turning to a more dynamic strategy. That's the foundation of smart energy risk management, ...

Heating, ventilation, and air conditioning systems are another major energy draw in commercial buildings, especially in the New Orleans climate. Upgrading outdated HVAC units to ENERGY ...

The commercial building energy efficiency market, currently valued at $43.84 billion (2025), is poised for robust growth, exhibiting a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 8% from 2025 ...

- Agilitas Energy has acquired a 12.5-megawatt solar project in North Smithfield, Rhode Island, aimed at supporting the state's clean energy goals. - The project is fully permitted with ...

From an economic perspective, PCM integration can lead to savings on operational costs primarily through two mechanisms: energy cost savings (if tariffs vary by time, shifting usage to ...

Significant Energy Savings with Advanced Technologies Modern commercial air conditioners, particularly wall-mounted or centralized units from Bosch, Fujitsu, or Gree, which we regularly install in Montreal, offer superior performance with ...

Note: Values are estimates and may vary by project and location. Lifecycle Value Creation Energy Performance Integration: 50-75% HVAC load reduction through R-38 continuous insulation ...

Amidst one of the most severe energy crises the country has faced, the commercial director of the Electric Company in Isla de la Juventud, Yosvany Hernández, urged residents on Friday to ...

Cities, facility managers, and developers are looking for lighting that deliver measurable energy savings, improved public safety, smart controls, and alignment with their broader sustainability ...

Tackling energy efficiency improvements with a structured plan including assessment, prioritising impactful upgrades, securing appropriate financing, and implementing a phased strategy ...

You could save on the cost of electricity for any business by up to 30% (or $5,400 annually) through smart energy-saving strategies, according to the U.S. Department of Energy. Over ...

Commercial energy savings

Commercial energy savings