Will sector coupling increase demand for solar energy?

Sector coupling of solar should provide a sharp increase in the overall demand for solar energy in the near future. While the cumulative installed capacity for green hydrogen is forecasted to grow from a mere 0.5 GW in 2021 to an enormous 350 GW by 2030, the electric vehicle market too is projected to grow sharply to USD 824 billion by 2030.

Does the UK government want the solar industry to grow?

The government has already signed off on more than 1 GW of new solar capacity. It's been a whirlwind two weeks for the UK solar industry. Chris Hewett, chief executive of Solar Energy UK, told pv magazine he believes the new UK government "unambiguously" wants the industry to grow, a first for the trade association.

What makes the UK solar market a strong market?

Perhaps the most exciting dynamic in the UK solar market today is the contribution coming from all segments of the market, across different rooftop and ground-mount activities. In terms of establishing a robust market, this is key, as there will always be periods or seasonality issues that cause temporary slowdowns in some of the subsegments.

Will the UK treble solar PV capacity over the next 8 years?

Solar Energy UK has published new analysis setting out a roadmap to treble solar PV capacity over the next eight years. reveals the policy and regulatory changes required to unleash the potential of solar energy in the UK.

What is the status of the solar market?

The paper also covers the status of the solar market as covered in the World Solar Markets Report. The past decade has seen a significant surge in solar market growth, rising from 30 GW in 2011 to 163 GW in 2021. This market growth has been driven by deployments in Asia in recent years.

Will solar become more affordable by 2030?

In the coming years, technology improvements will ensure that solar becomes even cheaper. It could well be that by 2030, solar will have become the most important source of energy for electricity production in a large part of the world. This will also have a positive impact on the environment and climate change.
