

Is it good to rent a roof with photovoltaic panels

Can you still get solar panels if you rent a roof?

All rent-a-roof schemes which offered free panels in return for Feed-in Tariff payments are shut to new customers, but there are still solar leases that homeowners can access. Solar subscriptions also provide an alternative way for homeowners to get rooftop panels without paying an upfront cost.

Are rent-a-roof solar panels free?

Rent-a-roof schemes provided free solar panels to households all over the UK during the 2010s- but there were plenty of strings attached. They stand in contrast with current-day solar subscription services like Sunsave Plus, which allow you to retain control of your roof, your solar panel system, and your future.

Do you still own your roof if you get solar panels?

Most households that get solar panels still own their roof, because they buy the panels outright or use a solar subscription like Sunsave Plus, both of which allow them to maintain ownership of their roof. You can access solar roof leases which take control of your roof for a set number of years, in return for a free solar installation.

Do you need a roof lease for solar panels?

If you rent or lease solar panels from a third party, you'll be required to sign a roof lease so that ownership of the solar panels doesn't pass to you once they're installed. This is because in English property law, unless a roof lease is in place, ownership of the panels would automatically pass to the property owner once installed.

Can you get free solar panels on your roof?

Thanks to rising energy prices, more and more people are looking to invest in solar energy as a way of saving money and reducing their energy bills, making the prospect of free solar all the more tempting. Known as the "rent-a-roof" scheme, a growing number of companies are offering to fit and maintain solar panels on your roof for free.

How many homes have a rent-a-roof solar panel scheme?

While the Feed-in Tariff was in effect, more than 900,000 homes in the UK had solar panels installed - so we can estimate that around 27,000 households signed up for a rent-a-roof scheme. What were the problems with rent-a-roof solar panel schemes?
