What makes prosolar different from other solar installers?

ProSolar differs from average solar installers by taking many layers of proprietary precautions every step of the installation to insulate your system from harsh weather conditions and corrosive salt air. Whatever your energy goals may be, we can help you reach them with over a decade of experience and expertise.

What makes ProSolar's solar systems rust-free?

ProSolar's solar systems are rust-free due to the highest quality aluminum, stainless steel, glass, and UV resistant plastic used for every connection throughout the system. ProSolar has perfected the 25 year solar array to ensure these installations remain properly grounded and structurally sound over the useful life of the system.
