What is a solar panel rent-a-roof scheme?

The Rent-a-Roof scheme lets people who can't otherwise afford solar panels gain access to them, through installers who will setup solar panels on roofs for reduced prices. Installers can then sell any excess electricity generated back to the grid.

Should you install solar panels for flats & apartments in the UK?

Installing solar panels for flats and apartments in the UK can be a beneficial practice, especially if you are looking to cut down on your electricity bills. This is because solar panels have gotten more efficient and cheaper in the past few years allowing for many more types of homes to install them with ease.

Are solar panels paying rent for your roof?

Technically, they're not paying rent for your roof, because you'll get the benefit of powering your home using solar power instead of grid electricity. They'll make money from the electricity you don't use. All excess electricity generated is sold back to the grid via the Smart Export Guarantee (SEG) scheme.

Can a landlord install solar panels on an apartment?

Furthermore, even if both you and your landlord are willing to install solar panels for the apartment, you will need permission from relevant institutions. Since landlords own only the flat and not the entire apartment block, they need approval from bodies such as neighbour councils or building management boards.

How do I install solar panels in my apartment?

Probably the best option is buying a plug-in or plug-and-play solar panels. They work pretty much as their name suggests: you just need to mount them on a spot that gets a lot of sunlight, plug them into any standard wall outlet, and the energy they produce will flow into your apartment.

Can you buy a house with rent-a-roof solar panels?
